How To Play

Pick a day to focus on function of vocabulary words. Throughout the day, while in the car, shopping, playing, eating, etc...., ask your child about the function of different objects.

- What does _____(vocabulary word) do?

or

- What do you do with _____(vocabulary word)?

The great thing about this “game” is that your child is exposed to and challenged with a variety of different vocabulary words. Also, your child is thinking about what things do or what you can do with them in their natural environment. The goal is that he/she will start to think in this manner about all new vocabulary concepts...forever :)
