Jumping contest

Target Sentence

My turn to jump

How to Play

Create a long jump contest. First, designate a starting point. All players line up on this line. Each person then takes turns trying to jump the farthest. You can mark where each player lands or have the player stay put after jumping. Before each turn, each person must say "my turn to jump." This is the most important part!

Example Script

- Parent: Let's do our jumping contest. Make sure to say /j/ when you say "my turn to jump."
- Child: Okay! We will line up here.
- Parent: My turn to jump (parent jumps). Now your turn. Don't forget to use your /j/ sound.
- Child: My turn to jump (child jumps)
- Etc...

Meals

Target Words

Jam, Juice, Jelly Beans, Fudge, Cabbage, Jelly

How to "Play"

This is not a game at all. Instead, be aware of all the /j/ words you or your child might say during meals. A sticker or tally system for every /j/ word pronounced correctly may be good motivation to remain concentrated for an entire meal. See if your child can beat their previous record
