How To “Play”

While eating, periodically ask your child a “who” question. This game happens very naturally during conversation. Additionally, it is really easy to do and doesn’t require any extra work.

Sample Questions

- Who is eating _____ (insert food)?
- Who is drinking water?
- Who is at the table?

Tip

Adults tend to answer questions quickly; however, toddlers sometimes need extra response time. Make sure to give your child a chance to respond.
